Faculty Development Sessions – (VIRTUAL- ALL VIA ZOOM)

11:10 a.m.- 12:00 p.m.

Session One <https://ashlanduniversity.zoom.us/j/95210506017>
The STARS Are Shining For Retention With SOAR Network (Starfish) - (Mullhollen)

Join this session to learn how faculty (and your students) will use the new tool STARFISH to communicate and connect. In this session you will learn how to set up your account, view your students profiles, integrate Google calendar for ease of scheduling appointments with students, send referrals for AU support services for students that might be struggling academically in your course, and quickly and easily send notes of encouragement and support to students.

Session Two: <https://ashlanduniversity.zoom.us/j/91090810740>
Using the AU Toolkit for Teaching - Fall Guidelines (Orr & Ramsey)

The AU Toolkit for Teaching includes instruction and support on virtual learning design, digital course materials, syllabus development, group work and engagement, utilizing BlackBoard, course communication, supporting learners, creating teaching presence and more. It also includes a section on Fall 2020 Guidelines for Courses, and updates on everything from accommodating students this fall to effectively communicating when wearing a mask. Join this session for an overview of the Toolkit, or access it by using this link:

<https://sites.google.com/ashland.edu/onlinecoursetoolkit>

1:00 – 1:50 p.m.

Session Three: <https://ashlanduniversity.zoom.us/j/95210506017>
Using the Curriculum Submission Process on the Portal (Wasnich, Howard, Weaver, Chappell & Randall-Griffiths)

Sheila Howard has created a new submission process for curriculum submissions. This session will provide training in use of this process via the Portal. Time will be allotted to the chairs of the Faculty Senate Curriculum Committees- Undergraduate, Graduate and Alternative Audience - to explain each committee's procedures for the upcoming academic year.

Session Four: <https://ashlanduniversity.zoom.us/j/91090810740>
Mindfulness for your "Next" (Groman and Lee)

Jennifer will facilitate a creative activity to draw out and dialogue with our perceived barriers to working positively in the institution. Kaelin will facilitate a mindfulness portion with simple ways to establish and support self-care. This is a slice of full-day workshop called "Adventures in Education: Launchpad to Your Next"

2:00-2:50 p.m.

Session Five: <https://ashlanduniversity.zoom.us/j/95210506017>
Planning a Productive and Balanced Semester (Mondal)

The Ashland University Research and Writing Community (AURWC) teaches faculty empirically-proven techniques to increase writing productivity and improve work/life balance. In this session, we offer a brief overview of our core principles and follow with a guided workshop on creating a semester plan. Faculty are requested to have access during the workshop to their course syllabi and planner/calendar.

Session Six: <https://ashlanduniversity.zoom.us/j/91090810740>
Using Flipgrid to Create Interactive Video-based Discussion Forums (Kormos)

This session will show attendees how to incorporate Flipgrid into the classroom. We will go over the advantages to video-based discussion boards, then have a workshop/tutorial on how to use Flipgrid. The idea is to give faculty an alternative to text-based discussion boards to engage students with the instructor as well as each other.

3:00- 3:50 p.m.

Session Seven: <https://ashlanduniversity.zoom.us/j/95210506017>
How To Get Good Results When Making Curricular Proposals (Weaver, Patton, & Groth)

A discussion of ways to avoid problems when making curriculum proposals, including the proper use of forms; understanding the difference between proposals, revisions and memos; submission deadlines; and HLC issues. Curriculum committee members will be available to answer whatever questions you have.

Session Eight: <https://ashlanduniversity.zoom.us/j/91090810740>
Working With Your Student Athlete (Hoge, King, Walthall, Clarke, Knerem)

Members from Athletics will be available to discuss with faculty how best we can work together to support our student athletes in and out of the classroom. We will discuss challenges our athletes face and the support that we provide them to encourage them to be successful.

4:00- 4:50 p.m.

Session Nine: <https://ashlanduniversity.zoom.us/j/95210506017>
Academic Advisor Academy (Professional Advisors)

In an effort to provide consistency in academic advising across campus, the Center for Academic Support, in collaboration with faculty and staff, has developed the Academic Advisor Academy. This program will provide opportunities to strengthen our knowledge about best practices in higher education advising as well as providing the most accurate information about Ashland University policies and procedures. Our goal is to help advisors have a streamlined process while providing our students with the best advising experience possible. Topics covered in the first session of this series includes 2020-2021 Course Catalog, student resources, and advisor support.
